From the Director

There are times in life when one can only sit back and reflect with gratitude on an experience — that's how I feel about being a part of Harrison Theatre. After achieving a lifetime goal of obtaining my doctorate, I was blessed to be approached about working with the talented and dedicated performers of Harrison. Little did I know what I was getting into.

I often catch myself thinking about the gift that has been bestowed upon me; I have been graciously given the opportunity to return to a passion in my life. I love the theatre. I value the process and the transformation that it wields in the lives of young actors and artisans as they build confidence and skills. I do not take lightly the responsibility that I have as a mentor and guide for those in my care.

This year has already been marked with highlights and milestones. We worked together to host the first Drama Camp for young performers. It was revelatory to meet my new students in this arena as they served as mentors and guides for those who attended. During Hoya Pride Week, Harrison Theatre donated the most canned goods with over 300 cans as well as won the banner competition.

It is in the area of performance and commitment that I have been the most impressed. You are seeing a glimpse this evening, but I would like to extend my personal invitation to you all to come to our Open Performance of the one-act play competition piece, I Never Saw Another Butterfly, on October 30th. The one-act play team is talented and dedicated to representing Harrison well at the region competition on November 1st.

International Thespian Society

Harrison Theatre' works diligently to maintain its status as an honor troupe in an organization that recognizes commitment to theatre in high schools and middle schools.

This year, Harrison inducted over 30 new members, producing a mock Academy Awards show written by vice president Brie Ladin.

Under the leadership of James Mifflin, ITS members dominated the Hoya Pride festivities by bringing in the most canned goods and by producing the best banner, designed by Vanessa Mason.

ITS officers planned and members led our first drama camp in July, working with 30 young performers for four days to produce a showcase of fairy tale productions and creating enthusiasm for theatre.

On 9/11, ITS members fed firefighters and stocked their pantry. The evening evolved into a mini Back in Black performance as emcees introduced two monologues and the Jekyll/Hyde duet performance.

Well done, Troupe #4996 ! You represent yourselves and Harrison well.

Meet the Performers

Hannah Arnold is a junior who has been in numerous shows since elementary school. At Harrison, Hannah performed in As We Know It, Anonymous, and The Drive; she also helped build the set for Young Frankenstein. This year, she is involved in Back In Black and our one-act competition play I Never Saw Another Butterfly.

Aaron Ellis, a senior, is proud to be a part of Harrison High School's Back In Black show. He is happy to perform a duet from the musical Jekyll and Hyde with his amazing friend (though not as amazing as himself), Sully Brown. Senior Aaron Ellis is a member of the one-act play team and one of our Drama Club officers.

Brae' Shaun Brown is a junior who absolutely loves theater and acting. His inspirations are his big brother Xaevier and his former classmates Hannah Johnson, Sarah Martin, Lauren Betten, and Aaron Dowdy, who all motivated him to follow his dreams of becoming a world famous actor; this performance is dedicated to them and God.

Olivia Garrison is a senior who has been singing since she was three and a half years old. At Harrison, she performed in Young Frankenstein and she has also been a member of chorus for six years. It is Olivia's dream to be a famous singer one day; it has been her dream since she was three.

Sully Brown, a junior, has been a part of Harrison theatre since his freshman year. He is thrilled to be performing a duet with one of his best friends, and he hopes that you enjoy the show. Past roles include Hamlet and Dr. Frankenstein. Sully is one of the lead performers in this year's one-act play.

Aerial Harper, a junior, is the youngest daughter of Arnold and Lisa Harper. As a freshman, she was cast in the role of little Inez in Hairspray. Last year, she was part of the ensemble for Young Frankenstein. Tonight, Aerial will share a monologue that she wrote specifically for this show.

Jackson Cole is a senior who vowed to be in theatre as a child when he watched his siblings participate in musicals. Since his freshman year, he has been in 3 plays, 3 cabarets, and 8 musicals. He is currently pursuing his dream to be in films, thanks to his family, theatre teachers, and God. Performing is his passion.

Taylor Hudson is a senior who has been in numerous performances at Harrison, including The Crucible, Hamlet, Acting Up, and Young Frankenstein. A member of the one-act play competition team, Taylor is one of tonight's emcees. He and his co-host, Cayla Moskal, also serve as Drama Club officers along with Aaron Ellis.

Meet the Performers

Katie Jordan is a junior in her second year with Harrison Theatre. She is primarily a writer and actor, and this is her second original production. Katie is also a member of the one-act play competition team.

Vanessa Mason is a junior who has been a set designer for two shows. Vanessa has been in four shows since 2010 and this is her second time participating in Back in Black. Vanessa was the creative force behind our award winning banner for the Hoya Pride Competition, which won prize money for Harrison Theatre.

Ashlan Kemp is a senior who has not only performed in numerous Harrison productions, but has served as a student director as well. Tonight, Ashlan shares her love of monologue performance, something she hopes to also do at the Literary Meet. Ashlan is also a member of the one-act team,

Hannah McDowell, a senior, has been involved with Harrison Theatre since freshman year. She worked tech for Hairspray and Robber Bridegroom. Last year, she made her acting debut in the show Rudolph the Dead Nose Reindeer, also performing in As We Know it. Hannah is the lead in this year's one-act show.

Brianna Koepka is a sophomore who is performing in her first Harrison Theatre Production. She is very excited to be a part of tonight's Back in Black cabaret experience and looks forward to be involved in future productions.

Indy Michio, a sophomore, began working in the theatre last year as a tech for Young Frankenstein. This year Indy wanted to try something different so she auditioned for Back in Black. Singing is her true passion, and she is so excited to be able to contribute to an entertaining show and do what she loves.

Brie Ladin is a senior who serves as vice-president for the Harrison ITS troupe. Brie has worked behind the scenes as a costumer for 8 Harrison shows and hopes to be involved in fashion design in the future. She is the costume designer for this year's one-act play and her performance tonight is a first for her.

Mallory Mifflin is a sophomore in her 2nd year of being part of Harrison's theatre department. She is the historian for ITS and plays lacrosse for Harrison. As a freshman, she served as tech for 3 shows; she is in charge of props for One-Act this year. Although mostly involved in technical theatre, she will be performing a monologue this evening.

Meet the Performers

Meredith Moore is a junior who absolutely loves performing on stage! Her most recent production was "Young Frankenstein" and will soon be performing in the upcoming "one-act play." She is very thankful for her Lord and Saviour, family, friends, and the entire theatre community.

Makayla Presley, a junior, worked as House Manager for Young Frankenstein last semester. This is her first time actually performing on stage with Harrison Theatre; she also managed the ushering staff for tonight's event. She would like to dedicate her performance to God and thank her friends for their support.

Cayla Moskal, a senior, has been in theater for two and a half years. She was part of the ensemble in the musical Hairspray as well as an ensemble member in the musical, Young Frankenstein. Cayla is the drama club president for 2014-2015, a lead in One-Act 2014, an emcee/ performer in Back in Black 2014.

Kailey Ratcliffe, a sophomore, was in the ensemble for the Harrison production of Young Frankenstein. Kailey was also in many childrens' shows at her church in elementary school. In 2007, she had the lead child role in her church's Christmas musical, Journey to the Manger.

Abby Moss is a junior this year who was in the production class last year and helped with set on the musical Young Frankenstein. Back in Black will be the first time she has had the pleasure of performing in a Harrison production. She hopes that you enjoy the show!

Rachel Taylor is a junior who has been in love with the theatre since she was a little girl. Rachel began performing when she was 3 years old and her passion is singing and dance. Rachel knew she really wanted to pursue the performing arts when she was cast as the lead role Candy Cane Jane in one of her first musicals.

Morgan Odom, a junior, is in her second year of working with Harrison Theatre. She has found her place and loves it; she is an actor and vocalist who has also performed with Young Actors Playhouse in Into the Woods. She will also be in YAP's production of Hairspray. She'd like to thank Mrs. Bruner for taking on her Theatre Family. She hopes you enjoy the show!

Olivia Woodward, a senior this year, has been involved with Harrison Theatre since her freshman year. Up until now, she has always helped out with shows behind the scenes or as a stage manager, and Back in Black will be her first performance in high school. Olivia also serves as the Scribe for the International Thespian Society.

Behind the Scenes

Korica Griffin is a senior who was a part of the Hairspray cast. After Hairspray, Korica worked as a techie for Young Frankenstein and is continuing as tech for Back in Black. Tonight, Korica was in charge of the servers who brought you dessert.

James Mifflin, a senior, joined the Harrison Theatre Department his freshman year and it has become his second family. James loves performing and producing shows with his best friends and is expecting great things for his senior year. As ITS president, James has led this year's group through several successful adventures already.

Blake Johnson, a senior, is a dedicated techie. He was worked with a total of nine productions and is excited to see what this senior year holds for him. Blake is controlling lights and sound this evening and he is the set designer and crew leader for the one-act play competition team.

Amy Tran, a junior, has been in numerous shows in the past, but this is her first year being a part of Harrison theater. Previously she participated in acting, dancing, playwriting and costume/makeup. However, this is her first attempt at stage managing and event coordinating. Amy is honored to share the experience with Harrison theater.
